

SENIOR BOX OFFICE

WINTER

A Message from the President

Just as we were turning the corner with a high degree of vaccinations and more activities occurring, we have a new variant to be concerned about. We simply need more patience and to encourage everyone to get their booster shot. Our membership is slowly increasing, activities likewise are increasing but we are not there yet. We are beginning to plan trips for the spring and more venues are beginning to offer us options. We need to support our venues as they are struggling financially. We hope to have our 40th Anniversary celebration in the spring. Please continue to support Senior Box Office and spread the word about our bargain membership fee of $25. Our membership makes a great gift.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS TO ALL!

In 1920 just outside of Tulsa, Patrick, an Irish immigrant, seeks out the services of Ms. Ruby, a mysterious Black woman from Baltimore, known to help exorcise ghosts from her clients, but the price she is asking may be too high. Meanwhile, in 2019, Charles Ross hires infamous ghost writer Rebecca Warren to help him through his writer's block, but what she invokes could be his salvation or undoing. Edidi's new play examines the intersections of race and gender inviting us to explore the role of love, justice and joy in a world where the ghosts of the past have yet to be laid to rest.
